Wolfsberg Think Tank

Dr. Michael Jackson, Chairman, Shaping Tomorrow, England

Today's New Landscape for Business Growth

Tuesday, 21 November 2006, 9.30 to 12.30 p.m.

Dear Sir/Madam

Customer habits and preferences are shifting very fast, so there are new opportunities today and a new landscape for business growth:

- Feelings of volatility and uncertainty are driving rapidly differing customer choices, so more of the same is not the only solution
- Uncertainty in these times of turmoil provokes broader thinking about solutions, so a wider range of options can be considered
- There is opportunity in volatility – the door is open for new products and approaches... but, before they become problems, how can you recognize your opportunities?

Mike Jackson will share from his work in creating best practice horizon scanning and strategic thinking systems for a number of MNC's.

Mike is a Founder Member and Chairman of www.ShapingTomorrow.com, a unique web-based portal for futures, strategy, change management, corporate innovation and risk management. His experience of Business Management in the UK, North America and Europe over 30 years, has given him significant exposure to corporate banking, consumer finance and futuring. He is a full member of the Strategic Planning Society, the Association of Professional Futurists and the World Future Society, an Advisory Board member to the Customer Service Network and a Trustee of the Society of Genealogists.
